Dear Parents,

My name is Heather Rife and I am very excited at the opportunity to be your child's Pre-K teacher this year at SnoSprings School.

I hold a Bachelor of Arts in Social Sciences from Washington State University and also have an Associate of Arts in Education. I have had the privilege of teaching Pre-K at SnoSprings in the past and am very excited to return to my old classroom. I am passionate about creating a positive classroom environment to serve as the foundation for a life-long love of learning in each student.

The privilege of working with each child is one I am honored to have. I am committed to working with both parents and students to develop shared learning and teaching goals that begin to unlock each child's access to their own academic and personal success. I value feedback and interaction with parents to ensure your child's academic and social needs are being met.

I strive everyday to bring an upbeat and exciting style to the classroom. It is critical to me that each child finds learning exciting and fun. While acquiring academic skills is critical, it is also important that Pre-K children experience respect, kindness, accountability, and develop social problem-solving strategies in a safe and warm environment.

I am very excited to get to know you and your child during the school year! Feel free to contact me any time with questions or comments.

Sincerely,

Heather Rife
