Dear SnoSprings Families,

Welcome to the 2019-20 school year! I am honored to serve as principal of Snoqualmie Springs School this year.

Our mission at SnoSprings School is to provide a safe, caring, enthusiastic, and individually challenging learning environment where each child can learn and develop to their fullest potential. We strive to provide a strong academic foundation while also creating a lifelong love for learning.

For those I have not yet met, let me briefly introduce myself. I attended college in Oregon where I earned a Bachelor of Arts degree from Willamette University in Psychology and continued my education to receive a Master's degree in Teaching from Lewis & Clark College. I have taught in a variety of grade levels and settings for more than 12 years, and most recently completed an administrative certification program at Seattle Pacific University. My husband and I reside in Sammamish and have two boys (15 and 12) that keep us busy with sports and school activities throughout the year.

SnoSprings School is a truly special place. The entire staff at Snoqualmie Springs School is committed to the promotion of love and respect, role-modeling appropriate social behavior, leadership, listening, critical thinking, self-appreciation, self-motivation, self-direction, self-esteem, self-expression, good citizenship and etiquette. I love being a part of this learning community and look forward to continuing my professional career in this new role.

I believe strongly that children learn best when parents work in close partnership with their child's teacher and school. Therefore, I look forward to getting to know each one of you throughout this school year. Please let me know if you have any questions or would like to arrange a meeting to discuss my qualifications and philosophy in more detail.

Sincerely,

Laura Scott
