Dear Parents,

My name is Jennifer Rohleder and I am so excited to be your child's kindergarten teacher next year. I look forward to getting to know you and your family as we share a year full of learning, growth and fun!

I received my Bachelor of Arts Degree in English from UCLA and continued my education at Loyola Marymount University in Los Angeles, earning a Master of Arts degree in Education. I began my career at a private school in Los Angeles, teaching in a combined K-1 classroom. I taught in Los Angeles for four years and ultimately became the curriculum coordinator for the three K-1 classes.

During that time, I got married, and my husband was transferred to Amsterdam, The Netherlands. In Amsterdam, I taught pre-kindergarten for two years at The International School of Amsterdam, a private school that teaches expatriate children from diverse backgrounds. By having the opportunity to work with children and colleagues from every corner of the world, I gained invaluable experience, both personally and professionally.

Upon returning to the United States, I taught Kindergarten for one year in a public school in Newport Beach, California, until my oldest daughter was born. We moved to the Seattle area in 2001 and I dedicated the next 17 years to raising our four children.

I was thrilled to return to teaching in 2017 and I feel so fortunate be part of the SnoSprings family. Every day, I strive to create a positive learning environment where students can reach their fullest potential. I encourage all children to work hard, do their best, and persevere through challenges. Equally important, I emphasize the value of kindness, compassion and respect for all.

We are going to have a great year! Please let me know if you have any questions or would like to further discuss the kindergarten program at SnoSprings.

Sincerely,

Jennifer Rohleder
